SPECIAL NOTICES.

ATTENTION, LIQUOR DEALERS' SOCIETY!
A special meeting of the above society will be held at the METROPOLITAN ROOMS,
No. 160 Hester street, on Friday Evening
next, the 29th inst., at 7½ o'clock. All members are particularly requested to attend as business of the utmost importance will be acted upon. By greer.
GUSTAVUS A. RATZ, Recording Secretary,
Nos. 145 and 147 Bowery.

AT A MEETING OF THE NEW YORK LIQUOR DEALber, 1888, the following address to the electors of the city and county of New York was unadmously adopted:
TO THE ELECTORS OF NEW YORK
OUR interests as a class and the misrepresentations which have so often and so perseveringly been under against us, induces us to present to you some facts which we consider worthy your consideration.
It is supposed by many that we are opposed to any excise law, and that it is our desire to have the traffic in ardent spirits epen to all without any restraint. This opinion is erroneous
We are, on the centrary, decidedly in favor of a fair and equitable excise have that shall impose salutary restraints and safeguards upon all who are engaged in the business.
The amount of capital invested in the trade is estimated by millions. From it the government derives a large revenue.
The traffic is recognized as a legitimate one, and yet of late years persevering efforts have been made by our legislators to oppress and embarrass those who are engaged in the sale of ardent spirits. Those efforts to a great degree have been crowned with success. Laws have been enacted, prohibiting the sale of ardent spirits, forfeiting the property of those engaged in the business to the amount of millious, and imposing penalless more severe than are usually awarded to high mislemeanors; inanticism for the time had control of the halis of our Legislature, and in its reckless career enacted those laws which were subsequently, by the highest judicial tribunal of our State, declared unconstitutional.

of those engaged in the trafic of artest spirits compelled them, in self defence, to combine for the surpose of protecting their property and those rights which the constitution guarantees to every citizen.

The result of that combination was the formation of "The Idaque Dealers' Society of the city and county of New York." The object of this association was the protection of our rights. From the moment the cause of our combination was understood, we increased in numbers and influence, until the society numbered its members by thousands; among whom are men of the highest personal worth—men independent in fortune, and possessed of great political influence.

The number of legal voters we can present at the polls is not less than ten thousand.

It is owing to the influence which we control, the justness of our cause, and the energy of our action, that the prohibitory law, after struggling through one year of incilicient attempt at oppression, was repealed.

But fanaticism was not satisfied, and in place of that illegal act, one grossly oppressive in its features was enacted, and is still in force as a binding statute. This act appears to have been intentionally framed for oppression. Its requirements are so oppressive that in but few cases those who wished comply with its terms could, by possibility, do so; and the result is that the law is openly violated.

Such must be the fate of every oppressive law under our government, when those who what to comply cannot, for the reason that it is impossible to do so.

Under these circumstances, being aware of the influence we can as a body, acting in concert, exert upon the election of our representatives, we are determined to use the power we posses to correce justice at their hands, and we know that in our "mino" there is "strength."

We have interrogated every candidate for office from the Governor down to the lowest that can, by vote or otherwise, exercise influence, and unless their pledges are satisfactory, introspective of politics, we will use our efforts to defea

EXCURSION.—AMONG OTHER EXCURSIONS OF THE season, we noticed that of the Ford Guard, on Tuesday last, and a better locking or more orderly body of men we never witherseed. They turned out forty muskets, in command of Capt. O'Donovan, to whom great credit is due for his military tarties and genitemanily conduct. They were furnished by Mr. Gormly, foreman of the Second Avenue Railroad, with two double deckers, drawn by siz gray harases, who took them to the River House, Harlem, where they contended for prizes on numerous that those putting a single ball in the staff of the target received one, and $50 still remain in the hands of their Treasurer, Mr. Ford, which will be distributed as the members of the company themselves may decide.

THESE LINES WERE COMPOSED IN PRAISE OF THE Two honorable and valuable characters, whose names are william J. Campbell, Esq., Superintendent of the New York and Harlem Railroad, and Allen Campbell, Esq., President of the kew York and Harlem Railroad;—
New York now adieu where rural pleasures abound, No strife or confusion moves your suburbs around, Felicity rules and golden plenty is found.
The Gode and the Muses choose it still for their ground; When Adam and Eve had been in Paradise placed.
In New York, I believe, they seen their happiness graced. Some authors agreed that cheerful Bacchus, of late, Has planted here trees and squeezed the jude of the grape—The Goddess of Youth a golden goblet she bore.
Has planted here trees and squeezed the jude of the grape—The Goddess of Youth a golden goblet she bore.
Both Jove and his Court the lucid cup did adore;
The same you may view, the Campbells had it in store, Leen it in bicom and used by their forefathers of ourc.
My seat here I choose where pure felicity reigns:
Great weath they pursue, yet lucre still they dislain—New York they subdued—the Campbells still is my theme. The pillars of truth whose rules will extent remain,
Wherever they steer no fear can enter their breast,
For martial esteem in the fields they always possessed.
No monarch or peer their freedom dare to molest,
Bright Eden is here by the seed of Adam confessed.
The brave Campbells of fame I mean in verse to describe, The lawfieldie swains, to grace their country's designs,
Their mensils to trace let all the railroaders incline,
And with their sword, gan and bayonet they will gain The conquering prize.
This country all over, through seaports and cities I tried,
And no other coast but New York attracted my mind—Ye lovers of sport with Francis Cassidy Join,
Their health for to toast in copious goldets of wine,
These lines for an epitaph—
And whenever a monument can claim
